

I support RM-10352 because it will bring the 160m band into the same structure as other HF bands having narrow-mode-only segments, thereby protecting narrow modes from wide-mode interference.